Details: Jupiter is a songwriting endeavor that blends melodic hooks, introspective lyrics and trance rhythms into songs that are both catchy and meaningful. It began with three members, and while two remain at it's core (Kelli Jo the singer, and KJ the songwriter), there have been some twenty different individuals that have contributed (at different points and times) everything from musical ideas to parts in the studio and performances. Jupiter's current lineup (on stage) consists of five members but that has been known to vary slightly depending on the needs and context of the particular gig. They have two independent releases under their belts ("In the Name of Beauty" and "2.0"). Jupiter would also like to say thank you to the family and friends that have and continue to help them in this endeavor. We could not do this without you.
