

Mp3 Mary Bue - East To The Sea

This is soothing, cathartic and quirky piano and vocal music. Full of stream of consciousness melodies with symbolic tendencies and the potential to "emotionally suckerpunch" you. 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: like Joni, ROCK: Acoustic Show all album songs: East to the Sea Songs Details: Review of "East to the Sea" by Steve McPhearson from Pulse of the Twin Cities: "Its surprisingly easy to mess up something as simple as recording a singer playing piano. The temptation is to get the best sounding piano, the best sounding mics and the best sounding room and just let the tape roll, but Duluth-based Mary Bue has done something much more than that on this 14-track disc. Instead of the pristine and antiseptic sound that dominates so many singer/songwriters albums, Bue opts for ambience and grit here and its fantastic. The disc is shot through with a distinctly North Shore aesthetic, from the ringing chords and tinkling bells of The Long Days to the empty and slightly dissonant swing of Song for Holly. Points of reference include the more intimate moments of Sarah McLachlan and other big-voiced youngsters like our own JoAnna James. Altogether, its some great weekend-breakfast-making music, like youve woken up mid-morning on an overcast Sunday on Lake Superior by the sound of muted music, and as you wander downstairs you find Ms. Bue seated at the creaky piano in the parlor, just playing for herself."
