Raised in a large Italian-Americanized family in Ohio, his unique views of life and analysis of pop culture has made him one of fastest rising stars on the circuit. From childhood to the enduring struggles of trying to adjust to adulthood, Ray's material touches on all of his life experiences and insecurities. Besides touring the nations top comedy clubs, Ray is one of the most requested comedians on college campuses. Based in New York City, he is also quickly making an impact on the Manhattan comedy scene. In 2002, the 25 year-old comedian made his national television debut on the PAX Network, as a featured performer on the "David Lynch Show". He has since performed on the Lifetime Network, hes been featured on Entertainment Tonight, and his first full-length comedy CD entitled "1647 Waterbury" can be heard on XM Radio.
