Details: You may be hard pressed to find a specific musical genre in which to place THE DUDES. Their music is as diverse as the culture of the Southwest, running the gauntlet from Blues, R&B, Rock, Roots, Cajun and even Bluegrass. Perhaps the correct genre is simply THE DUDES. The songwriting duo of "The Reverend" Don Merritt and Stevie DuPree started practicing their craft in 1973 and continued to turn out award winning compositions until 1980. They walked away from the music industry until the Spring of 2003 and have returned with a vengeance. The CD "Nothing But The Truth", released in June of 2004, is a prime example of the full spectrum of musical styles that THE DUDES embrace. We hope you will enjoy this music as much as THE DUDES enjoyed creating it. Good God, Ya'll !!!
