Young Floss, born Carlos Feliciano of Passaic, NJ, began to write hip-hop verses at the age of fifteen. Having lost his mother at a young age and being raised by his father, who was crippled by a stray gun shot in a tragic accident, Young Floss turned to his music as an outlet and a source for a better way of life for his family. Throughout his high school years he established a following amongst his peers. Within the school hallways, sports events and talent shows, there was always the chant of his schoolmates singing his song "F.L.O. Double S". Over the years Young Floss has spent countless days and nights in the studio recording tracks and honing his craft. He has remixed some of the hottest songs out today as well as recorded a commercial for a new sports band, which will be released in the near future. He is currently working on his first album and will be releasing a compilation CD, titled "For the Love of the Game Vol. 1" in AUG. 2005. -FOR BOOKING PLEASE CALL DMP WORLDWIDE ENT.
