Amos who's pseudonymous is Che' Clark as an Author and Young Gold as a Hip-Hop/Rap Artist fully established All Gold Publishing Company and All Gold Records, LLC in the summer of 2001 after completing his first book publication "Soul To Soul". While working on his recording project and helping other first time authors put their books in print he has revised and extended this book publication to produce a new version titled, "Soul To Soul" The New Edition: package with a six-song Maxi-single CD from his Debut Hip-Hop Album "His Name Is Gold". Music has always been a part of Young Gold's life. At a young age he was influenced by funk legends Sugar Foot from the Ohio Players, Robert Ward of the Ohio Untouchables, and many other talented musicians that had ties to his family in the Dayton Area. In his book publication " Soul To Soul" he depicts his life from a young boy learning to play the guitar and quickly finding his niche with the drums and keyboard up until his Freshman Year in High School when he gave up music to take on the role of a star athlete which earned him a Track Cross-Country scholarship to a small private University in Northern Ohio. After a successful year in college he decided to transfer to a school closer to home to help raise his son, and later adopts the street lifestyle of fast money and hustling that he had been steering away from through his education. Using the adversity he experienced in the streets and the blessings of God, Young Gold established a strict work ethic that led him back to school, and to become the strong-minded hard-willed young entrepreneur he is today. After completing the research for his book, Young Gold found a new talent and confidence in song writing. Learning more about the musicians and entertainers in his ancestry, and how his grandmother lost the rights to the hit song "As We Lay" that originated from a poem she wrote titled " As You Lay pushed Young Gold to learn about the business side of the music industry, and has influenced him to pursue a career in music not just as an artist, but also as a producer, publisher, and CEO with his sites set on building his own recording empire. "In his own words" "Through this rap/hip-hop CD Recording and Book Publication Project, I hope to show the world where I've been, where I'm at, and where I'm going, to inspire them not to give up on the dreams and goals that God put on their hearts when life's trials cloud the light".
