Singer/Songwriter Beau Alquizola infuses rich soulful vocals with melodic high-energy, hard-edged pop music. If you like songs about unrequited...anything, Beau Alquizola is your guy. 9 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Beau started as a soul singer in the early 1990s. While singing in an r&b group (based out of Tampa/Orlando), he developed his songwriting skills. His first single, "I Will Give You Everything," was recorded in 1992. In 1994, his second single, "Ready to Give You My Heart," was recorded. Both songs, he collaborated with Tampa keyboardist/producer, J Soul. In 2000, their musical relationship continued with the internet release of Beau's "Move On" EP. The single, "Better Than Me," was an 'on fire' debut...at number 15 on MP3's pop charts. The "Move On" EP displayed a mixture of pop, r&b, hip hop reggae; and Beau's rich vocal arrangements were reminiscent of the Motown era. In 2002, he released "The Jay Songs" EP. Beau collaborated with Cincinnati guitarist/producer, Jeff Conner on "The Way I Feel" and "Knowing the Deal." Musically, these two songs were a departure from Beau's r&b background; One song, an acoustic ballad and the other, more rock oriented. And once again, he partnered up with J Soul for the song, "Everything." In 2004, Beau hit the Cincinnati live performance scene with his former acoustic pop/rock duo "CoBo Moon." In Jan 2005, Beau officially went solo as a live performer. Currently, Beau resides in Cincinnati and his latest solo project "Please Keep the Door Closed" is finally available; teaming up with local power-house band "the Newbees," acoustic rocker Steven Gregory and once again, Jeff Conner. Beau also continues to sing and write songs with local musician/"Kohai" frontman Shaun Henry. Together, they are the pop/rock acoustic duo "Skylights." When they're not recording or performing at local hot spots (such as the Viper Room), they occasionally host 'songwriter night' at Habit's(in the Nati). Beau and Shaun have become two of Cincinnati's favorite open-mic hosts. In addition, Beau has performed with local gospel ensemble, "Exalted." His credentials also include performances at Cincinnati's Music Hall and The Aronoff Centre. In 2004, Beau was also a back-up singer for local band "Pale Beneath the Blue" (Rhonda Everitt's latest incarnation), in three live shows. His performances at the 2004 2005 MidPoint Music Festivals (held in downtown Cincinnati) were well attended and well received.
