Straight-ahead mainstream jazz guitar sound and style playing exciting original compositions. 7 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Traditional Jazz Combo, JAZZ: Smooth Jazz Details: VINCE LEWIS Vince Lewis is a veteran performer, composer and recording artist who has appeared with countless major entertainers and jazz musicians. Some of these include Cab Calloway, Don Rickles, Don Goldie, Herb Ellis, Bob Hope, Les Elgart, Johnny Mince, Henry Cuesta and Bobbie Rosengarden. Since actively pursuing a solo career he has achieved national acclaim and airplay, as well as outstanding critical reviews in major publications. He has been a Heritage Guitar, Inc. Performing Artist since 1991, and is currently a featured artist on their website. He records for the Noteworthy Jazz label, and his latest release is a duo project with guitarist Steve Abshire titled "Two In The Pocket." Guitar Player magazine describes his playing as "silky-smooth hollow body jazz with fluid bebop lines, flawless technique, and a Wes approved tone that's lively and bright." Jazz Improv magazine calls his Vince Lewis Trio CD "A great jazz guitar record," and has included him in their 2002 selected list of "leading and emerging active Jazz artists." His style has been compared to Wes Montgomery and Tal Farlow. Jim Hilmar of Vintage Guitar magazine says, "Vince is an accomplished player with a fine improvisational style." Jim Fisch writes in 20th Century Guitar magazine that he is "a fine guitarist...offers a deft blend of chordal and linear ideas effortlessly executed...a hip approach to chord soloing." Ed Benson says in Just Jazz Guitar magazine that Vince has "lots of class and taste." Charles Chapman, noted guitarist and Professor of Guitar at Berklee College of Music in Boston says that he "has those great melodic lines I TRY to strive for." In May of 2002 he was the opening act in concert for blues legend B.B. King. Vince is a contributing writer and consultant to Just Jazz Guitar magazine. In addition to his performance schedule, he serves as Coordinator of Guitar Instruction in the Center for Worship at Liberty University in Lynchburg, VA. Further information may be
