

Mp3 Dan Jacobs And The Jacobs Brothers - Jazz Standard Time

DOWNLOAD HERE

"Dan Jacobs' trumpet playing is clearly about taste and musicality. Technique serves the music.-

Winthrop Bedford, Writer-reviewer, JAZZ IMPROV magazine. 11 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Traditional Jazz

Combo, JAZZ: Smooth Jazz Details: "Dan Jacobs' trumpet solo style is unique and original, his tone is clean and pure and he can go upstairs on a moments notice. He has what every musician strives for and rarely achieves . . . their own identity." - John Gilbert, Jazz Review.com "Dan, I enjoyed your trumpet playing very much. You're a great jazz player and I loved your tone. Your command of the instrument is ferocious!" - Wayne Jackson, trumpet player with "The Memphis Horns." "Wow! Excellent CD. Beautiful trumpet playing, very lyrical, good lines, clear sound, very tasteful indeed." - Bobby Shew - international trumpet master and teacher "Dan Jacobs' trumpet playing is clearly about taste and musicality. Technique serves the music. His sense of time is rock solid, enabling him to play right in the center of the groove, or sensitively lay back, behind the beat, to infuse live, in-the-moment emotion into his music. Jacobs' sound is very attractive here - not only because of his lines, but just to savor some of the long tones with which he maturely begins his improvisations. Slow ballads have a way of separating the more experienced players from their less experienced counterparts. Dan Jacobs' sound is completely exposed here, and he expresses himself magnificently." - Winthrop Bedford, Writer-reviewer, JAZZ IMPROV magazine.

"Trumpeter Dan Jacobs' playing is very evocative and heartfelt. Intriguingly so. I particularly like his sense of space in his playing; I love guys who are so confident in what they have to say that they're not afraid to let the silences add depth to the overall picture." - John Hammel, WNTI - FM, jazz writer and reviewer.

This is a lyrical, melodic sojourn into straight-ahead jazz from Jacobs brothers, Dan (trumpet, flugelhorn), Ron (drums), and Chuck (bass), and the results are incredibly tasty and listenable. You'll definitely hear a Chet Baker quality to Dan Jacob's playing, which adds depth and richness to the arrangements. This one's a no-brainer - pick up a copy of this one, and set your musical clock to JAZZ STANDARD TIME!

Scott O'Brien smoothjazz.com "Jazz Standard Time "is a thoroughly standout release. We Love it! Dan Jacobs is the consummate musician and we thank him for adding so much quality music to our radio shows. - Joe Kelley, Host, The Upper Room, WVOF 88.5 FM Fairfield, CT Dan Jacobs is one helluva trumpet player! Everything on this CD is pleasing to the ear. Another impressive release from the folks at Sea Breeze." - Jim Clark, Jazz Music Director/Host, KUSD-FM How refreshing to have a new collection of favorite jazz standards by the Jacobs Brothers. Their CD "Jazz Standard Time" features strong musicianship and fine jazz arrangements of tunes like the Gershwin's Summertime, Rodgers and Hart's Falling in Love With Love and Cole Porter's Love for Sale. These tunes and the rest of the selections on this CD are beautifully done, and retain the lovely melodies and moods of the original songwriter. Yet, the fine playing of these musicians brings a fresh take to our favorite standards. This is a CD that will endure. It will be on our regular playlist for a long time to come. - Mike Raymond, Jazz Director, WTIP-FM Jazz

Standard Time has appeal for all jazz aficionados by reaching the inner complex senses of the most critical jazz listener to the smooth jazz enthusiast looking to improve a glass of chardonnay at a cocktail party. Dan, Rod Chuck Jacobs have created Jazz Standard Time in a way that jazz was meant be captured in a recorded format: fun, raw and by bringing the listener to a point that they sense as if the musicians are there performing live rather than traveling through the speakers. All three brothers are world-class musicians and that is mirrored within the project. - by Rick Coates, Music Journalist Judiciousness and taste are not by their nature things that spring up and grab you by the collar. Only after repeated hearings does one really appreciate the subtlety here: the expressiveness of the trumpet, the taste and drive of the guitar, the comfortable swing and spring of the rhythm section, and the extraordinarily pithy and well-integrated percussion work. Music like this can more than stand on its own with just the level of the musicianship . . . the message contained inside is a welcome bonus! - Eric Hines, General Manager and Host WNMC Jazz Radio 19 September 2002 It rarely gets better than this!!! I highly recommend it to any jazz enthusiast. And for those of you that want to start getting in to jazz for the first time, this is an excellent CD for diving in to the genre. reviewed by Oman Nuppett southofmainstream.com PERSONNEL: Dan Jacobs, a veteran freelance trumpeter and record producer, settled in the Los Angeles area after years of playing around the U.S. and internationally. He is busy in the studios and playing live with various bands as well as his own jazz combo. Rod Jacobs is a Chicago-based drummer working regularly in the greater Chicago area. He is called on regularly to anchor world tours for name artists. Chuck Jacobs is also a Los Angeles professional musician, playing bass in the L.A. studios and on the world stage for over 25 years with every name artist you can imagine. Randy Dorman, top guitarist from Nashville is also a seasoned road musician having performed with major artists at leading venues around the world over the past 25 years. Artist quote: "If the joy of creating it is any gauge of success, you'll find this CD as fun to listen to as it was to produce!" Dan Jacobs Recorded on Sea Breeze Records by Jazz trumpeter Dan Jacobs and The Jacobs Brothers 2002. danjacobsmusic.com

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals: