Details: I am very proud that my music has finally made it out of the hills of Kentucky. I sing because it makes me happy and I like to share my songs with people who like to listen. I have wrote books and newspaper articles for several years. I have sang at many places all for free. If it was up to me this would also be free, but I have to make money in order to make this music available to you all. I am not doing this to become a star. Basically I am filling up my free time with something I like to do now that I have quit drinking. Being kicked off the local radio station on several occasions and even some newspapers that I have written for I feel that I have finally found an outlet to get my music heard in other places. If you are expecting a big fancy band don't buy this album. I am the real thing with my music. I have no special equipment, no manager or nothing like that. I write my songs about the people I meet and the situations that I have been in. All I would need to do to play you a song on this cd is just to have a place for me and my old flat top guitar. I got the guitar from a pawn shop for $30.00 and all the songs were originally recorded on a cassette recorder. Still I think you would be happy by purchasing this CD. Because you will find that this is the real way that music got its beginning and roots from past generations in the hills of Kentucky. Some of these tunes are based on the tunes that my Grandma sang me to sleep with, and I am proud to keep this style of music alive.
