In just one year, thousands have shared their innovative songwriting and energetic live show. What shines through this duo however, is their genuine love for children. Taes and Nick are both recently graduated with Honors from the Music and Drama program at Queens University in Kingston Ontario, Canada. It was there were they found each other and their common passion for performing to young audiences. Both having performed since a young age, they used their experiences, passions and talents and formed the group: Splash'N Boots. Performing in local libraries and schools with a handful of original songs, and receiving such enthusiastic support from their audiences, they soon decided to write and produce their first original children's album "Getting Our Feet Wet". Soon after they found themselves on a full tour playing at some of the biggest events in Canada. Taes and Nick were both raised in small town settings (Perth ON and Thorndale ON respectively), and demonstrate an uncanny ability to connect to children through songs and language, bringing positive values and outlooks to a new generation becoming more and more overwhelmed by technology and marketing gimmicks. The future is extremely bright for these 23 year olds, as they continue to inspire their audiences with laughter and the joy of music. Their newest album, "Manatee Bay", has as already recieved raved reviews and promises to have something for the whole family. Enjoy
