Polite yet slightly dangerous pop rock. Think B-52's meets X. Details: "...The real imminently likeable thing about this CD, is those well-honed Pop sensibilities and the general good spirit The Comforts exude..." Alex Weber, CITYBEAT, MAY 2009 - review of The Comforts debut CD, COME ON IN! Don't let their name fool you, the Comforts are a high-energy pop rock band. The Comforts are five talented musicians drawing their inspiration from five decades of rock music. Their sound, though, is pure pop: simple, melodic yet driving and inspiring. Lynne's silky vocals pour sweetly over Paul's catchy guitar riffs and Jim's solid back beats. Add Dave's punk antics on bass and Tim's cheeky keys and you've got a powerful yet soothing collection of tale-telling songs. The Comforts sing about small town girls (who keep you up a night), chance encounters, compassion, growing wise, taking fantasy trips to the other side of town and, finding love after pain. The Comforts are an audience participation band; If you don't come to them, they will come to you! The Comforts want you dancing, drinking and singing along! They will occasionally smash a guitar or overturn a table but don't worry, it's all done in good taste: The Comforts are as polite as pie; they'll ask permission first before they destroy anything. However, they don't pander to other typical rock band antics (sorry folks, no sex, drugs or "Are you ready to party?" bantering) Even so, The Comforts are crowd pleasers at biker bars and church festivals. Let the Comforts fire you up with some old school cool rock!
