The owner of Hellbound Entertainment, Dartanyan Johnson, has written three movies the company will be producing in the near future. Music is the backbone to a lot of people's lives. Many people get through the day listening to a tune that keeps them moving. Hellbound Entertainment plans to give these people what they want - real music, real entertainment, from real talent. Lately, the radio stations have been playing music from East Coast artists. We have no complaints with the style and uniqueness of the talent coming from the east, but we believe its time the tables turned. It's about time we change the face of music yet again and prove why the West is still the best Coast. With artists like Jay-Z, 50 cents, Eminem, and Naz, the spotlight won't shift without reason. Hellbound Entertainment has a lot in store for the world, so sit back and enjoy.
