When I launch a new website, I start receiving traffic almost immediately. In August and September of 2006 I started several new websites to test a new traffic generating method. Heres one: I launched this particular site late in September 2006 and began to see traffic almost immediately. The traffic began to build steadily and continues to grow to this day. This Is Great, But Can It Make Us Money? Absolutely! For these new sites, I wanted a hands-off way to get some passive income because they were basically test sites. I just did not have time to do much with them on a daily basis. So, I added Google AdSense to the site just to see how much income I could generate.
