So swampy you wonder if you're from down south yourself, or if you knew us in Vietnam under the bright moon:country, punk, rock, folk, swamp music 13 MP3 Songs ROCK: Roots Rock, COUNTRY: Country Rock Details: "Witness to the Monkey" is like a tree. It's like a bird and a stone and a rock. Here we are: Amanda Jo Williams (vocals, rhythm guitar), Paul McMahon (lead guitar, background vocals), Drew North (bass, some background vocals), Mackenzie Parker (drums). If you read the description of "Saves the World Again," you'll find some words for "Witness to the Monkey." It's one of those half-mornings so I'll say we are a tree and a bush, growing out of swamp juice behind my mama's house in Georgia. She was so beautiful at my age. She's still beautiful but there's one fact about her that makes me mad. But please people, don't let politics separate you from anyone, especially your own kind. We're in the process of building a fan base: we've played in NYC a few times, got a great response, so now with our new confidence, be on the look out and hearing boat for us. You'll know we're coming up from behind when you can make out the clippety-clop of our sound.
