Image-filled lyrics, rich chords and melodies, and pure voice combine to create a seamless blend of pop and folk for the over-30 audience; a bit of Norah Jones, Sarah McLachlan and Joni Mitchell. 11 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Mood Music, FOLK: like Joni Details: Margaret MacDonald's latest album "Rain on the Roof" is a collection of eleven of her original songs with Margaret performing vocals and piano, and features some amazing talent, including Basil Fung on guitar (Alanis Morissettes Jagged Little Pill) and Charles Waltz (fiddler for the Young Dubliners). Her collaboration with LA-based producer Randall Michael Tobin at Theta Sound has resulted in an album with wide appeal to audiences who listen to the likes of Joni Mitchell, Sarah McLachlan, Carole King and Norah Jones. Margaret grew up in San Francisco listening to everything from classical music to R&B to folk, then spent 15 years in the United Kingdom, and her songs sparkle both musically and lyrically, a rare feat these days. Her richly textured voice takes you from the amusing James Taylor-esque Still 21 In My Head to the gut-wrenching Cry For You and the R&B ballad, I Know You Love Me. Platinum songwriter and recording artist Harriet Schock says, "Hearing Margaret MacDonald play the piano and sing her songs, I immediately feel transported to a place where every note is what I want it to be and where lyrics deliver the emotional impact the melodies deserve. This is exceptional talent combined with well honed craft." Her debut CD, Other Vistas, was released in 2001 and is also available here at CDBaby
