As crisp as an early autumn's morn, curdling dreamy samples and rickety pastoral parochialisms, prised apart by gentle darting beats. At the heart of these six tender morsels lies a weighty lucky bag of sweet mouth watering succulence. 8 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Folktronic, ELECTRONIC: Experimental Show all album songs: A Place in Mind Songs Details: Here's another chance to get hold of mundane music's brilliant debut EP, first released on an 8" lathe cut clear vinyl on Heliotone Records, back in 2004.

Remastered and available for the first time on CD, it comes in a beautifully crafted canvas sleeve, and includes two previously unreleased bonus tracks from the original studio sessions. "as crisp as an early autumn's morn, curdling dreamy samples and rickety pastoral parochialisms, prised apart by gentle darting beats. At the heart of these six tender morsels lies a weighty lucky bag of sweet mouth watering succulence. Quite delicious if you ask me!" Losing Today "Fans of Prefuse 73 and Four Tet should make it their mission to track down this EP ... recorded at home, it oozes charm and loveliness from every pore, as gentle guitars, synths and percussion are morphed with playful beats and samples." City Life (Manchester Edition) "someone who has real promise. It's an inspired piece of music ... so if you want a serious treat, order it now. Keep pressing the play button everybody."
