Details: Alvaro Is Rojas, piano All About Jazz Expert Review Spanish pianist Alvaro Is Rojas recorded these alluring pieces for solo piano at the Royal College of Music in Stockholm, Sweden in June, 1999. The artist admirably empties his soul into this presentation consisting of jazz and pop standards, along with two original compositions. And while Rojas demonstrates a finely honed and well-schooled technique, he also excels at providing the listener with tenderly executed and emotive aural canvasses of time honored classics such as Duke Ellington's "In a Sentimental Mood," Hoagy Carmichael's "Manhattan in the Spring," Thelonious Monk's "Evidence," and more. Through it all, he crafts unadulterated elegance via animated lines, mood evoking passages, deft expressionism, and swirling chord clusters, while breathing new life into familiar themes. On guitarist John Scofield's "Easy for You," the pianist pursues a subtle approach yet displays a flair for the dynamic along with a penchant for perceptibly raising the intensity level during climactic developments. Simply stated, Alvaro Is Rojas is a communicator who artfully conveys his impressionistic touch, through the magic of his astute and deeply personalized jazz vernacular. BlueMusicGroup- The most innovative in jazz, folk, world and new classical music. BlueMusicGroup features artists of the highest creativity and determination. The music resembles jazz, classical, world and folk, but the personal expression is always the number one ingredient. BlueMusicGroup is the most innovative company in releasing music in new media only. We believe in green, not as an alternative but as the only choice. We at BlueMusicGroup put human creation first. Whether it be our listeners or our artists and music producers, our focus is to bring out the best in each individual. All our music is primarily about sharing energy and human compassion. BlueMusicGroup is only a mediator, not the regulator. As we have no genres for our artists, we don't believe in target group thinking. As the first and only company in the entire music industry, we don't have a mailing list to sign up for. All our customers have different needs for new music, and we trust and leave it up to you to come back to us when you need it. Thank you for believing in BlueMusicGroup.com.
