This collection of work by this london born, brooklyn raised reincarnated griot, blends jazz, hip hop, blues and new age with pointed, powerful and thought provoking poetry that will paint images in your heads 14 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Hip Hop, SPOKEN WORD: With Music Details: Tshaka was one of the 100 monkeys (#37) and does poetry to help speed up the process. It was said that he spit up Ethiopia while getting drunk with Thoth and once he read in a tabloid, that he and Cripus Attucks took the Underground Railroad to a house party in the Bronx and free-styled the Genesis story with Jesus and his Disciples. Tshaka born in London England has been writing poetry for over fifteen years and performing his work for five. He has been on numerous national Slam teams including the Nuyorican poetry Caf and Hollywood slam team. He was also San Francisco Grand Slam Champion in 2004. Tshaka has performed across the country and conducts workshops at a number of venues and colleges, from the Apollo Theater in New York to the Oakland Metro in California. He has authored two books and a CD entitled "ONE" and currently resides in Los Angeles. I have come to the realization that I am simply a vehicle for these words; a vessel to remind us of journeys forgotten eons ago. My hope is that my work will be a reflection of the Emerald Tablet, in that every time it is read or heard, something new is extracted from its pages and vibrations. ONE TEOP OYUN certified
