Details: Upon arrival into America, Csteroc was the first out of 11 kids born in America. His family left a war torn South Vietnam on a boat in search for freedom. Csteroc's mom was pregnant living at a refugee camp before the family's departure to Chicago, Illinois where she gave birth to Young Rocket also known to the world as Csteroc. The family then moved to the San Francisco Bay Area where Csteroc was raised. As a young child, Csteroc was heavily exposed to music. His folks would throw house parties every weekend with live bands. Growing up listening to Bay Area West Coast Rap, Csteroc started writing verses turning them into songs. Through a mutual friend, Csteroc got into a studio and started knocking out tracks. Even though expelled from high school and kicked out again, Csteroc maintains his composure and graduates on time. By his junior year, he pressed up his first E.P. - "Young Viet Vet" and sells them independently. A few years later after appearing on compilations and doing guest appearances, Csteroc puts together a compilation titled "REALITY RAPS". Letting new aspiring artist shine, the CD sells throughout Northern California and on the web. His latest release "In The East Bay" contains tracks from the young teen's perspective. Most tracks were recorded during his adolescent years and showcases the hustle he's been through. Be on the lookout for his new project titled "Gamblin' Grindin" with all new tracks coming soon. Also set to release, another collaboration his folks.
