Details: Saigon Lounge is a Music Project created to bring a new dimension and exotic taste into the local music market, yet also introduce local works out to the global market in international quality. Part of the Project is the Album Series named "Saigon Lounge" ("Si Gn Th Gin" in Vietnamese) - the name itself stands for the style: music that creates a lounge-atmosphere. The Project is developed and managed by TOUCH Communication. For the very first time a truly lounge-style Music Series comes up in Vietnam. And for the very first time the Lounges, caf-and-other places in Vietnam will have the local music playing instead of international album all the time as before. Quc-Bao Chillout is the first album in the series, covering 8 hit songs from Quc-Bao* - a modern Vietnamese song composer / producer. The songs are re-arranged by Laurent Jaccoux the French Musician who lives in Vietnam for years - and Quc-Bao himself. Laurent's works are based on smooth electronica and Quc-Bao's on electro-jazz. The voice of Nguyet Anh (Nguyet nh) joins those two styles into a complete and unique composition which can create an exotic but familiar music atmosphere that chills! She turns the once-hit songs into another dimension devoting audiences a new and relax enjoyment. Yet Local comes to Global! - - - - Saigon Lounge from The World Online News: " ...This is Nguyet Anh, remixed. Its her take on lounge music, complete with Miles Davis-style trumpet adornments. To be accurate, its Nguyet Anh in the able hands of Vietnamese composer and producer Quoc Bao. Theyre producing a series of CDs called Saigon Lounge. Remember Saigon? That was the pre-communist name for Ho Chi Minh City. These days the city has lots of lounges, and now, apparently, locally-made music to be played in them. Its Nguyet Anh singing on the first volume of the Saigon Lounge series. But remixer Quoc Bao sampled her voice judiciously on the recording. On this vaguely latin remix of a Quoc Bao composition, Nguyet Anh shows up for not more than 40 seconds. Here she comes with the first appearance... The on-line English language ThanhNien News said that Nguyet Anhs chillout album is not your grandfathers elevator music. As for Nguyet Anh, she seems smitten by the chillout genre. All singers have their own road to success, she told ThanhNien News. Ive chosen lounge music and I want to be remembered for being the first singer to perform it in Vietnam. " - - - - - (*) Quc-Bao (born Bi Quc Bo) is a Vietnamese songwriter and record producer. He became one of the most prominent songwriters in Vietnam in the late 1990s and is noteworthy as producer who helps launch new artists. His lyrically poetical and melodically beautiful songs set him apart from other Vietnamese songwriters. - - - - - Saigon Lounge I mt d n m nhc c khi xng bi TOUCH Communication, bao gm mt lot album c tn chung l Saigon Th gin Saigon Lounge, s dng nhieu bn nhc, ca khc ca cc nhc s Vit Nam v quc t ho m theo cc phong cch ch o ca nhc lounge. y l In u tin th trng m nhc Vit Nam n nhn cc album lounge music thc s, bn cnh dng ho tu ph thng thnh hnh trc nay, vn nng nh nhieu vo m nhc bn c in.
