Details: Roger Greenaway is an original and timeless musician from New Zealand currently writing and performing in Europe. His blend of rock and pop sensibilities have created some beautiful and poignant songs. His album Wayt was released in 2004 and revealed itself as one of the most accomplished debuts to be released in NZ. In 2007 roger released his second killer album "40 MILES". Its a collection of songs based on reflection, introspection, personal growth, the future subjects not uncommon amongst the singer/songwriter set, but of course the difference between a diary entry and a pop song is... the music. Its wry, classic, catchy and not without its nods to various formative influences from the 60s and 70s. Its about arriving at a destination having measured a lifes journey in miles.
