Related styles: FOLK: Appalachian Folk, COUNTRY: Old-Timey Details: The Rosin Sisters are Jan Smith, Ann Whitley, and Barbara Panter: three fiddlers, three friends, three women who love to play and sing together. We each have been playing traditional country music in the Atlanta area and beyond for over 25 years. After singing with an all-women a capella group, the Divas, we decided to form The Rosin Sisters to further explore our love of singing and fiddle music, especially the rich heritage that comes out of the Appalachian and Southern regions of America. We do a wide variety of roots music, including traditional string band fiddle tunes, country, blues, gospel, Cajun, and country dance music.
