Born and raised in Southeast Jamaica, Queens, "Badlands" Booker has always had hip hop flowing thru his veins, and spent much of his early years rhyming under the moniker "Big Hulk". Teamed up with his good friend since childhood Keith "Da Vultcha" Thomas, we built a studio called "The Pitt", and got a bunch of East New York Brooklyn's hottest underground hip hop talent and started making and shopping demos, Performing at Open Mic sessions such as the Lyricist Lounge, and doing Wednesday night showcases at CBGB's. One of the highlights of my early rap career was doing a promo for NY's Hot 97 Radio late night Air Personality "Curt Flirt" (which the Vultcha produced). Then in 1997 I took some time off from the Hip Hop game to pursue another sport, Competitive Speed Eating. So after a not so long hiatus to get into competitive eating, in 2003, with the help of producer/musician Julian Maile (Loser's lounge, Rent, ABC's

My Kind Of Town) I Decided to heat up my pen and continue to pursue my hip hop career in a very innovative way by creating a new genre called "Competitive Eating Themed Hip Hop", and recording what would be Hip Hop's first competitive eating themed album. On July 4th. 2004, Hungry Focused was released with ovelwelming praise from the competitive eating community. tracks like "The Sweet Science" and the "All Day Buffet" recieved critical acclaim, and rocked crowds in the competitive eating community from a few hundred to crowds as large as 22,000! During the Christmas Season of 2004, "Hungry Focused" was officially the number 1 selling product in the IFOCE online store! The apparent sucess of the 1st. album has inspired me to do a follow up entitled "Hungry Focused II - The Ingestion Engine" which was released Thanksgiving 2005. this album is a more broader picture than the one painted by Hungry Focused 1, and as i step up my promotion, availability of the albums (there are available on iTunes, and your favorite online music store worldwide) and show dates so that not only the eating fans can get Hungry and Focused, but the rest of America as well! Even though i'm presently retired from the eating aspect of competitive eating, I will be involved in the sport so much that I will be far from missed. In addition to adding more eating themed apparel to the badlands booker store on my site, badlandsbooker.com, my third album called "Hungry Focused III - The Reframing - Word To Jim Mullen's Teeth" which will be out Thanksgiving. The Reframing would have the competitive eating hip hop that fan's love, but i will go back to my "Big Hulk" roots and write songs on broader topics beyond competitive eating, so look forward to that. Thanks for your support God Bless, and whatever you do in life, stay Hungry Focused. -Badlands.
