Robert K. Oermann (Music Row Magazine) Yelling at you in my head is the most basic and original idea anybody has had in a decade in the songwriting world (the lyric is a wonderful obverse to It Never Entered My Mind)-John Beebe "Bill Kelly has crafted a landscape full of characters that feel like they live next door. It's a beautiful record of great songs that won't let go." -Buddy miller "Bill Kelly has the voice and pen of a true artist, with a great sense of melody"-Larry Campbell "Well produced, heartfelt songs"- John Leventhal In BREAD ON THE WATERS, Kelly takes a long hard pull on the bottle of life, with weather-beaten songs of messed-up love, longing, and redemption. Bills inviting sound, produced by Lincoln Schleifer, blends back porch grooves with everyday poetics to tell real stories in a newer, truer way. BREAD ON THE WATERS features the exceptional talents of Larry Campbell, Marc Shulman, Danny Louis, and Denny McDermott.? The song Seraphima has been applauded by the critics, and Yelling at You in My Head has already shown up in the new Anna Holtzman documentary, Subway Dreams. In 2002, Bill and Michael Parrish formed the urban hillbilly duo Folkfoot and released Dos Hombres; the song It Must Stink to be Pink can be heard in the Academy Award-nominated documentary, Super Size Me.
