In the summer of 2008 DJ Mesta had embarked on a tour of Nigeria where he was deeply touched by the vibrant music scene. Originally a HipHop DJ who broke Reggaeton in Europe, after his West African tour decided to launch a new trend in music fusing HipHop, Reggaeton, Afrobeat and Reggae Dancehall. Having been influenced by the popularity of various Jamaican acts recording songs on the same track (riddim), DJ Mesta created what he calls the "Naija riddim", capturing the feelings still fresh from his tour in Nigeria.
