Details: ABOUT EDDIE BRUCE: Eddie Bruce is the consummate entertainer. For more than 25 years, he has been performing his unique repertoire of music that ranges from Top 40, R B, Disco and house music to Swing and Sinatra. His interest in music began when he was a child, and he has never wavered from this passion. He has blended his natural entrepreneurial skills with his love of music and created one of the most successful orchestras in the region and one of the best reputations as a much sought-after performer. Whether hes entertaining a group of 50 or 500, theres no one better as the leader of an orchestra that entertains at social and corporate events. A regular at Caesars in Atlantic City, the Eddie Bruce Orchestra has also performed at Ballys Park Place, the Etes Arena of Trump Taj Mahal as well as such major events as the prestigious Grand Gala Opening of the Kimmel Center for The Performing Arts in Philadelphia. Added to his great satisfaction in producing outstanding musical events and celebrations, Eddie Bruce has a dual-career as a cabaret artist. He has performed cabaret in the past ten years at Bally's in Atlantic City, Odettes in New Hope and in New York at 88s, The Supper Club and Danny's. In 2009, he is performing Bruce on Bennett in Philadelphia and New York, his tribute show to the legendary Tony Bennett. In February 2009, he is proud to be included in the popular subscription series at Morgans Cabaret at the Prince Music Theater where he is joining such nationally recognized artists as Andrea Marcovicci, Christine Andreas, Steve Ross and Barbara Brussell. On March 29 and April 5, he takes this show to the Metropolitan Room in New York. Another cabaret show he is proud to present is "Newley Discovered", his tribute to the legendary composer, singer Anthony Newley.

Re-inventing this show, when he performed it earlier in 2000, it was called "A winner on all counts" by Backstage. He's recorded two CDs "We'll Never Say Goodbye" and the newly released Bruce on Bennett. Born in Philadelphia, Bruce began his professional career as a child performing on television talent shows, in local theater, and events throughout the city. He remembers fondly his many appearances on the Al Albert's Showcase, appearing on the first show broadcast from WKBS-TV, Channel 48 and then continuing as a regular when it moved to WPVI-TV, Channel 6. As a member of the Al Alberts Showstoppers, a regularly appearing group of local teens, Bruce made frequent appearances on the show and sang many duets with the host Al Alberts, an original member of The Four Aces. He also sang on The Ted Mack Amateur Hour at the Ed Sullivan Theater in New York. After attending Temple University's Television, Radio and Film Program, he formed his own band, Eddie Bruce Music. Being on television frequently as a young performer, Eddie has always been comfortable in broadcast media. He is very proud that he was the first host of the 1980's hit show Dancin' On Air, and also hosted a show on Philadelphia's talk radio station, WWDB-FM. With a heart as much as big as the sounds that emanate from his orchestra, Eddie has always been involved in community efforts, lending his talent and compassion to enhance many charitable events. In February 2009, he is being presented with the Lifetime Achievement Award from Variety The Childrens Charity for his years of dedication and commitment to the children they serve. He has also worked with The Eagles Fly For Leukemia, Golden Slipper, The Breast Health Institute and The Chef Aid Gala for Manna among many others. Truly a leader in his field, Eddie serves as a wedding and event consultant, providing valuable advice for clients planning to get married or a variety of special events.
