Details: Austin based singer/songwriter Elisa Ferrari has been playing guitar and writing songs since she was ten years old. Although she has a background in classical music, she also draws from the many styles heard as a child raised by bohemian Argentines, including Brazilian pop and tango as well as tropicalia, bossa nova, and forro- musical styles that she studied while pursuing her masters degree in ethnomusicology at the University of Texas at Austin. One can also detect inspiration from the likes of Tom Waits, Neko Case, and Radiohead, some of her favorite artists. Elisass songs are full of rich, dense harmonies and syncopated rhythms, highlighted by her dynamic voice that ranges from soothingly angelic to powerfully defiant. Her lyrics often lie between fantasy like constellations of tales of love, life, decision, and biting political critiques pushing for social awareness in todays cultural climate.
