Nova Scotia singer-songwriter Jason MacDonald is quickly emerging as one of the East Coasts finest artists. His debut CD "Leave My Mark released in the summer of 2002 was an immediate success earning both critical acclaim and impressive sales. Now with the release of his follow-up CD The Day (earning him an ECMA 2006 Award nomination), Jason continues to create an original sound all his own. His songs feature a fresh sound of contemporary folk infused with an adult alternative mix and lasting lyrical impressions. The Day builds on the strong foundation set by Leave My Mark and showcases the depth of Jasons songwriting with an edgier production element. Throughout the eleven original songs on The Day, Jason has managed to capture an earthy live feel, which translates well from the studio to the stage. The Day was recorded at the award winning Lakewind Sound Studios with Jason making his debut as producer along with veteran Fred Lavery. Last year Jason toured several Maritime centers promoting his new CD. One of the tour's highlights was the Festival Beausoleil in Yarmouth, where he performed on stage with well known East Coast artist Lennie Gallant. To Get to Know You, the first single from The Day, was released to radio and immediately received significant air play. In addition to recording his second CD and performing in the Maritimes in 2005, Jason hosted The Acoustic Caf a series of live performances on Coast Radio 89.7 FM (on-line at coastradio.ca). In September 2005 Jason showcased at Nova Scotia Music Week and to start 2006 his CD "The Day" was nominated for ECMA Pop Recording of the Year 2006 . In September 2006 Jason was invited to perform in the Root Room Showcase at CCMA .
