Traditional bluegrass with a modern edge. 12 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Traditional Bluegrass, SPIRITUAL: Country Gospel Show all album songs: Make A Joyful Noise Songs Details: Formed in 1989, band members quickly discovered they had the bluegrass X factor to win over fans with their stellar instrumental proficiency mixed with a genuine gift for entertaining. Within a couple of summers on the western Canadian folk festival circuit, and following the 1991 airing of their video single North Wind on CBC-TV's Country Beat, MuchMusic and CMT, as well as a string of appearances on CBC Radio with Morningside host Peter Gzowski and Vinyl Caf yarn-spinner Stuart McLean, Jerusalem Ridge found itself at the top of the bluegrass community in Canada. In addition to numerous appearances on TV and radio, the award-winning recording group has performed at many popular North American bluegrass and folk music events, performing or sharing the workshop stage with such artists as Del McCoury, Doyle Lawson Quicksilver, The Nashville Bluegrass Band, The Fairfield Four, Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, Chris Thile Nickel Creek, Tim O'Brien, Laurie Lewis, Peter Rowan, Jerry Douglas and more. The band's sixth album, Together, recorded in 2001 with California dobro great LeRoy Mack, netted the CD an early ballot nomination for Recorded Event of the Year at the annual International Bluegrass Music Association (IBMA) Awards in Louisville, KY. In January 2006, Jerusalem Ridge embarked on an entirely new direction in a unique, ground-breaking bluegrass-goes-to-the-symphony program entitled Fire on the Mountain: A Bluegrass Music Experience! The program had its debut Jan. 17 with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, and toured western Canada in Fall 2006 / Winter 2007. Biographies

Craig Korth (Banjo, Dobro, Vocals) Craig Korth picked up the banjo at age 12 after his mother saw an episode of TV's The Beverly Hillbillies and asked him if he'd be interested in learning how to play. He did. Thirty years later, he's still playing. But Craig, a Western Canadian Banjo and Guitar Champion, is also a busy musician. He has performed for the past 16 years with Jerusalem Ridge and is a much-sought-after session player and producer in and around Alberta. Craig's other musical credits include performing and touring with his wife, songwriter Julie Kerr, as well as The Bills, David Francey, Maria Dunn, Billy Cowsill, Ronnie Hayward, and Tom Phillips and the Men of Constant Sorrow. Korth released his first solo album, Bankview, in 2002 to critical acclaim. An avid and knowledgeable collector of vintage bluegrass instruments, he's also the host of Fire on the Mountain, a weekly bluegrass program broadcast province-wide on Alberta's CKUA Radio. Korth is also a contributing editor and columnist for Bluegrass North magazine, the voice of the Canadian bluegrass scene. He resides in Calgary, where these days he's perfectly happy spending time with his wife and their two young daughters, Ella and Amy.

Byron Myhre (Fiddle, Mandolin, Vocals) Son of Alfie Myhre, western Canadian old-time fiddle legend, Byron Myhre grew up competing in old-time fiddle competitions and has become a nationally recognized, award-winning performer in his own right. Adept at a variety of musical styles, Myhre is a ferocious bluegrass fiddler who has appeared on record and on stage in North America and Europe with Jerusalem Ridge, John Reischman, The Jaybirds, Keb Mo, Craig Young, the Craig Korth-Julie Kerr Band, Tammy Fassaert, Maria Dunn, and others since he first joined Jerusalem Ridge in 1994. Myhre is equally talented on mandolin and guitar. When he's not playing music, Byron operates his own Edmonton music store (Myhres Music) specializing in acoustic and bluegrass instruments. Byron, his wife Kim, and their four children reside in Sherwood Park, Alberta.

Joe Teichroeb (Guitar, Vocals) Jerusalem Ridge's newest member is guitarist/vocalist Joe Smokin Joe Teichroeb (pronounced Tike-robe). His soulful lead vocals contribute the band's driving style. Joe's deft guitar work is featured prominently at live shows and often brings rousing applause from audiences. Writes Bluegrass Now magazine: "He is an excellent (Tony) Rice-influenced player whose resonating vocal style shines on several numbers." Joe performed with Manitoba's highly successful Dry River Boys for 11 years prior to joining Jerusalem Ridge in early 2005. The Boys were featured on TV's Bravo Channel and over the bluegrass radio airwaves, recorded four albums and toured Canada extensively, winning a loyal following from coast to coast. Joe, his wife Jamie, and their two children live in Winkler, Manitoba the heart of southern Manitobas Mennonite community.

Keith Burgess (Upright Bass, Vocals) Upright bassist and vocalist Keith Burgess, a 27-year veteran of bluegrass and roots music, has performed with a variety of bluegrass and folk artists, including Jerusalem Ridge, Del McCoury, LeRoy Mack, Restless Lester, Tom Wilson and more. An experienced musician, booking agent, producer, instructor, journalist and author, Keith is a former Acoustic Musician columnist, Bluegrass Canada Magazine advisory board member, and author of a self-help manual for musicians, entitled Establishing Roots: A Beginner's Guide to Performing Roots Music in Canada. Keith resides in Edmonton with his boisterous and active family menagerie: wife Bev, teenage son Peter, daughter Sarah and son-in-law Tim, granddaughter Mia, Harley the Dog, and Sam the Guinea Pig.
