An uncharted territory of musical sounds. This band is unlike any i've heard. Combine the beautiful harmonies of nickel creek with the eclectic trip hop of Imogean Heap and you have Lancaster Transit. 18 MP3 Songs in this album (35:36) ! Related styles: ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop, FOLK: Alternative Folk People who are interested in Nickel Creek The Postal Service Imogen Heap should consider this download. Details: Combine the electronica/trip-hop styles of Frou Frou and The Postal Service, the soft piano and guitar motifs of Death Cab for Cutie, complex, layered vocal sections with soaring harmonies, and intimate folk sensibility and you have Lancaster Transit, a duo born out of the frustration of the static state of the Christian music industry. Melissa Lancaster, the producer and vocalist, creates vocals reminiscent of Imogen Heap with words of hope in a dismal world. Zach Gannon, the instrumental half of LT, creates fusions of folk, trip-hop, orchestra, pop, and electronica which mesh to form truly unique songs. Both write the lyrics and melodies together, forging a sound comprised of both members, not led by a frontman (or woman in this case). Their new album, "A Point With No Edges: A Series of Short Songs", takes a bold step in a new direction. "APWNE" consists of 18 songs crafted in a manner similar to haiku poetry; short, but packed full of musical experiments and lyrical games. Keep a close eye on LT's Twitter page for more information about the album, new vblogs from the band, and free music!
