Details: Notes: Burning Wood was written in the 80s during the first real oil crunch. I really did go out and bought me a saw an ax and a wedge and a big heavy maul and took the woods truck and all. I also bought a Vermont Castings stove that could be converted to a coal burner which kept my wife and I warm all winter long for several years until we moved from the small cape in which we lived. I find myself once again stoking the fire and thought this may be a good time to release this song of mine that OPEC helped inspire! Hope you enjoy and stay warm until spring. Peter J.
