Duncan loves to make music of every style. He has written a symphony and four ballets, numerous ensemble pieces and choral works, but he also likes to dabble with virtual instruments, as in this latest effort The Full Moons, a concept album of many kinds of mood-full melodies, harmonies, and percussive twists that evoke those wondrous periodic events as they seasonally occur. Mr. Duncan received his musical training at Mercer in Atlanta, is a member of the American Composers Forum and The Thursday Morning Music Club, sings bass in his church's choir, and still likes to play rocknroll with his old high school band The Remnants of Time.
