Thee Hoolies are 4 young men, who combine drums, guitars, lapsteels, accordians , and whatever they can get there hands on to make sweet rock n' roll. 5 MP3 Songs in this album (23:03) ! Related styles: FOLK: Psych-folk, ROCK: Rock Roll People who are interested in The Band Devendra Banhart Akron/Family should consider this download. Details: Thee Hoolies are a four-piece psych/folk band from Regina, Saskatchewan. Since officially forming in January of 2008 Thee Hoolies have kept their hands at the plough, playing many shows locally and regionally, recording their debut self-titled EP and touring western Canada. With a wide range of influences, including The Band and Devendra Banhart, Thee Hoolies have a "divergent sound... [Which is shown best] on their self-titled EP," released in September 2008. The band consists of four songwriters who share lead vocals and all other instrument duties. They have shared the stage with such bands as The Sadies, The High Dials and Rah Rah. They are currently settling in to begin work on their full-length album that they hope will be ready for release summer 2009, to coincide with a Canadian tour. Also, they will be doing a tour of western Canada in February 2009, so keep your ears open.
