"Pop-roots Folkgrass"...Back porch "feel-good" music with a sexy, magical mix of vocal harmonies forming a blend of soul-soothing warmth that will uplift your spirit and energize your very being. 7 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: (How Loose Ends came about) Back in August of 2005, longtime musicians Gerald Chism and Dennis McBride, both residing in Springfield, Missouri, had been backing up other bands, while at the same time, had been forming their own group. One Thursday evening they were on the town square in Ozark, Missouri jamming with other musicians in the area. There was a "new kid" in town, kind of shy, a little hesitant to join in, but with a little coaxing, began to come forth a little. Over a relatively short period of time, Gerald noticed a certain potential in this new guy, (from the California "Bay" area), and since he and Dennis were looking for another "double" or "triple" threat to help round out their group, asked Bobby DeWitt if he was playing with anyone. He said that he wasn't, so, long story short, Loose Ends was born. Soon after, in December 2005, Laura Bastedo (from upstate New York), was brought into the fold to provide percussion, flute and the female vocal flavor to the group, and Loose Ends headed to the recording studio in January, just three months after forming. In 28 short recording hours, these twelve songs were recorded, (*tracks 1,4,6,7,8,10,11 are originals), all vocals and instrumentals on separate tracks, knocking out a complete song about every 2 1/2 hours! In fact, Gerald wrote "How Can You Say" on a Wednesday, it was practiced on Thursday night, and recorded on Friday night! Now folks, these songs were, of course, mixed in the studio, but Loose Ends sounds exactly like this cd when performing live! There are no studio musicians used...everything you hear on the cd is everything you hear live! All the instrumentation, percussion, and vocals are NOT overdubbed, it's just as it's performed! Thanks goes out to Jonathan David Brown at Watercress Studios for his recording expertise and his fabulous "Nuendo" recording platform.... Jonathan has been instrumental in the past, working with the likes of Glen Campbell, Vince Gill, Ricky Skaggs, Petra, and others)!.....So, with that little piece of history being told..... From straight out of the beautiful hills and hollers (yeah, we really do actually say hollers), of the beautiful, scenic southern Missouri Ozarks, comes dynamic, distinctive vocal harmonies that will soothe your soul like a cool, mountain stream on a scorching summer day! "We love all kinds of music and we write, arrange, produce, and record our own music and put it out there on the streets for you!!"
