Details: Oakcee is becoming one of the hottest Hip-hop/R&B sensation, the crossover artist from Switzerland surprisingly emerged from nowhere with a complete CD that incredibly blends a perfect mix of Hip-hop, Contemporary R&B/Pop, and Soul with a special vocal style. Born Okey Collins Anioke grew up in a staunch Christian family, The native Nigerian attended Sacred Heart Seminary High school at the age of ten, where he discovered his singing talent while singing gospel songs in the very reputable Seminary school choir. His early exposure to gospel songs and later influences like, Boyz II Men, Blackstreet, Bob Marley, Mariah Carey and contemporary R&B artists like Joe, Akon inspired an intense passion for singing and songwriting. Oakcee moved to Switzerland ten years ago after graduating from college, and has been working tenaciously towards realizing his dreams. After recording scores of demo songs, worked and performed with diverse local artists, he met producer Matthias Hillebrand of Phatmedia studios Pffikon in 2007. After a few years of hard work and perseverance, taking vocal lessons in London and Germany defying frustrations, he finally recorded his debut EP CD titled Time produced by Matthias Hillebrand in collaboration with composers from Switzerland, Germany and USA, featuring talented up and coming artists from Switzerland and Austria. At the Swiss Gospel contest 2008 final, he performed with Lori Glori an established Soul/Gospel singer from San Francisco, USA, he was so marveled by Lori's amazing voice that he told her that she sings like Mary J Blige and Lori said in reply Oakcee you see that's the point, you don't sound like anyone else and that's what makes you unique Wow!

The six track EP CD Time is true reflection of this unique and impressive vocal style and has continued to receive very positive feedbacks from his growing fan base. The song "This Girl" has an incredible smooth catchy melody that stays on the mind and tempo that keeps the club jumping alongside "Sexy Girl" and "Never Let U Go". "Middle Of The Nite" is an amazing romantic love song for every lady to listen to and dream dreams. In "Heartbreak" Oakcee sings a sad but beautiful love song and delivers a vocal performance that is simply amazing. Time is a complete package you don't wanna miss.
