

Mp3 Stephen Druessedow - It's A...personality Generator

DOWNLOAD HERE

This is high energy, intelligent, electronic music along the lines of trance and psytrance. Good for listening, dancing, exercising, and thinking. 9 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Trance, ELECTRONIC: Dance

Details: Personality Generator: A dense, otherworldly mass of alien machinery that produces human wordstrings, movements, and responses. The personality generators float unassumingly in a dark, foggy, undiscovered realm and pump sparkling electronic transmissions directly into human mental circuitry. The Concept of this CD was to reflect and document the progression, addition, and change of my own personality generator using electronic music as the medium for reflection and recording. During the span of 9 months I wrote one track per month, taking two weeks to gather sounds and ideas and two weeks to focus on producing a track. The first track is the 1st month, the second track is the 2nd month etc, so that the listener can hear the 9 month progress, or change, in the course of an hour. Enjoy. Stephen Druessedow has an eclectic musical background. He has been making electronic music since '99 when he attended nyu for a degree in music technology. He has studied formal music theory, music history, and electronic music for his degree and is also a classically trained violinist from the age of 5. He has won many awards for competition on the great highland bagpipe that he has played since '94 and also has recieved much education in the visual arts. He strives to make music that rides the edge between the aural and the visual.
