With their second recording, Classic Giuliani, AlmaNova returns to their classical roots bringing a fresh perspective on these wonderfully traditional works by the Divine Mauro Giuliani. 15 MP3 Songs

CLASSICAL: Classical era, CLASSICAL: Chamber Music Details: The music of Italian composer, Mauro Giuliani (1781-1829) is an integral part of any flute and guitar duos repertoire. In addition to composing, Giuliani was a fine cellist who was part of the orchestra in Vienna that premiered Beethovens 7th symphony (December 8, 1813). Greatly admired and respected by Beethoven, he referred to Giuliani as Il Divino. Giuliani was also one of the great virtuoso guitarists of his generation and therefore knew very well how to write for the instrument. This vast knowledge of the guitar and his beautifully crafted melodic lines make his works for flute and guitar timeless classics. We hope you enjoy listening to these divine works as much as we enjoyed recording them! AlmaNova: AlmaNova dazzles audiences with their brilliant virtuosity, captivating performances and an eclectic mix of their classical roots and traditional folk melodies. The duo began their musical journey together while studying at the famed Ecole Normale de Musique in Paris. Since then, they have toured throughout North America, Mexico, United Kingdom, France, and Eastern Europe. Their first recording, Debut, featuring original works by Almer released in 2006 was met with much critical acclaim. With their second recording, Classic Giuliani, AlmaNova returns to their classical roots bringing a fresh perspective on these wonderfully traditional works by the Divine Mauro Giuliani.
