That outrageous contagious high school student disease - senioritis. 17 MP3 Songs POP: with Live-band Production, KIDS/FAMILY: Kid Friendly Details: Senioritis tells the story of the senior class at Erma Schmoe High School, which unwittingly becomes the object of an experiment testing the famous laziness so common in the final year of high school. When the seniors bomb their first-quarter grades and tests, they get rejected by the elite "Holly League" colleges. They (and their hovering parents) fear that their lives are hopelessly ruined. Things go madly awry when the seniors get wise to the experiment and decide to get even by having the worst case of "senioritis" in history. The seniors put on a "high school mythical" about senioritis and become global sensations. Whether that will be enough to rescue their future is tough to say... The score includes 18 original songs, on topics ranging from grade inflation ("C's and D's are Very Good for You") to college rejection letters ("However"), to hovering parents ("High School Parent Blues"), to the temptations of ambition ("Rich and Famous"). "A biting farce... A counterpunch to the Disney version of high school... Poking fun at nearly every pain point of modern teen life: helicopter parents, grade inflation, college applications, test-prep books, wealth, celebrity - even global warming. The jokes clearly spring from the minds of teens. Could it be that the lines were written by actual high schoolers?" -USA Today People who are interested in should consider this download.
