Around the campfire, on the porch sounds of Americana 8 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Americana, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: Steve was once compared to an old comfortable sofa. It aint much to look at, but there's just something, well, comfortable about it. The comfortable thing about Steve is the song. It's all about the song. His strength is his writing. Hell readily admit he doesnt sing or play that well, but his singing and playing kind of works for what hes doing. It's three chords and his truth. Like most creative types, he sees things a little differently than the 'normal' folks. Some of the things he sees, he can relate through song. He doesnt really write them, they come to him, and he relates them. His sound can be a bit country flavored but not heavy-handed, more along the lines of Americana. As a songwriter, hes proud to have had the opportunity to perform twice in the late 90s at Nashvilles famed Bluebird Caf at their Sunday Writers Night. His songs, Wet Dog (Someone To Care) and Ive Lost All Faith were named Tastes of the Day by eartastein 2007. Both songs were on CD samplers released by that website. Tampa resident Steve Vaclavik is a troubadour in the tradition of Bob Dylan and Townes Van Zandt. His songs are full of the truth as seen by ordinary people. These people often tend to be life's underdogs, and Steve has the special gift to capture their perspectives on the world with genuine understanding. His words, full of humor and insight, are the essence of his music, but his Dylan-esque vocals and spare guitar playing provide a fitting framework that rings true and clear. (From Pro Star Recording press release for their Pro Star Sound Stage Celebrate the Songwriter Series - December 2007.) the Tampa musician strums a simple tune onstage. But listen to his vocals, and the lyrical strength of his tunes becomes evident. With an ear for eloquence and an eye for detail, Vaclavik crafts his songs around the emotions of everyday life. Songs like Bus Window, Swinging Gate, and Little Rabbit, exemplify the personal and poignant nature of his work. (From Michael Dunn, The Tampa Tribune - 1996.)
