Details: During gamma testing in the Nevada desert, Mick Magnum and Dolorian McFly were just mad enough to throw a party in the desert. Protected by a sheild of melty, rubbery vinyl that freakishly laid a crusty bubble over the duo, during the blast that hit at 12:01 am. Protected from the explosion by the vinyl-crust-bubble, but not the gamma radiation, the duo emerged from the flames, with a disturbing ability to manipulate sound, warp beats, bend noise, and annoy the uptight. Now armed with an amazing arsenal of sounds, original tracks, psychotic remixes, and mad beats, The Uncanny Cheek Beats are on the move, saving the masses from the evil clutches of villainous, whack-ass deejay's time and time again.
