Long story short Jimi and I lost our band about 6 years ago and decided to do something different. We started a recording/rehearsal studio to develop our music. We wrote and recorded for years waiting for the right musicians to come. Mingo came first. Mingo's huge presence and driving beat solidified the band's infectious melodies. DJ Shame amazed me the first time we jammed. I had never heard a DJ contribute to a band like a guitarist or horn. Jimi's words, hooks and style is captivating. Grasping the audience and demanding attention. If you're not listening to this yet CLICK NOW! The fact that you're on CDBABY.COM tells me you want music from a different point of view.
