This Webbased PHP Script lets you Manage and Organize Any Information that you Feel is Vital to Your Business. Organize information about all your Recipes, Favorite Breakfast Lunch and Dinner recipes, and even recipe swap details. Organize and manage the different types of Auto Responders that you have. Even have access to what messages are being delivered on what days from your own auto-responders. Organize information about all your ads, your links, and even articles and ads that you swap with others. Keep track of all the products you purchase and download. Store information regarding the creator of the product, the price of the product, URL location where you purchased it from. Even file locations so that you never lose track where you download it to. One of the Biggest Headaches for Everyone is locating where they just downloaded something to. This alone will save you hours a day. Add Personal or Business Contacts and Never be without that important phone number or address when you need it. If you are traveling and find you need a phone number. The Internet is accessible just about anywhere around the world. Requirements: Server Must Support PHP and MySQL Restrictions Comes with MRR Master Resell Rights and No Restrictions.
