Contemporary urban Details: Ask him why he sings, he says, "I had no choice, this is what I was born to do." Born in Miami Florida, T.Sams has been surrounded by music his whole life. He says, "I grew up listening to a wide cross-section of music from R&B, hip-hop, jazz and gospel, my family was always involved with music in some way." This environment influenced him so much, that as he says, " I was hypnotized by music at an early age." He often would persuade his father and brothers to take him to their rehearsals, where he imitated Michael Jackson, Johnny Gill and New Editions. He says, "The artist that influenced me most was Michael Jackson, but I've always liked the harmony and dynamics of groups". After High School, T.Sams enrolled in Central Florida College as an Education Major. After receiving his Associates Degree, he enlisted in the United States Navy and was stationed in Camp LeJuene North Carolina where he met fellow ship mate Spencer D. The two began working together as the R&B duo X2 (Times2). "We worked really hard and made a lot of personal sacrifices, but the end results were worth it." When X2 broke up in early 2002, T.Sams decided to continue pursuing music, this time as a soloist. He performed in clubs and concerts opening for several Artists across the US, including Sunshine Anderson, Tank, Ruff Endz the Ying Yang Twins to name a few. T.Sams' first project smoothly blends song writing skills accentuated by sensuous scenarios with smooth vocals. This charismatic vocalist takes the listener on a stimulating ride, bringing a refreshingly new flavor to R&B/Soul. T.SAMS IS LOOKING FOR A NORTH EAST BOOKING AGENT.
