Forex wealth is committed to provide our clients with the highest service levels. We are constantly researching new and better ways to improve our trading systems so that you can become a more successful trader. - View all Get your own Key questions every trader is searching for answers to ? * How do I trade the markets consistently and profitably ? * what are the main drivers behind price movement ? * How do I zone in on the best trading opportunities ? The first step is to understand what causes price action. * Price action is caused by a shift in sentiment and the equilibrium in the market which can be a fundamental event or a sudden impact that causes risk aversion / appetite resulting in buying or selling. * The trick is to be able to anticipate these moves before they happen. The market will always give you signs of this as its reflected in the price and overall sentiment. Many trading systems and tools have been developed to try and spot these trading opportunities. The flaw in most of these systems is that they are looking back at historical data and not at the current picture. * We at Forex wealth have developed a tool that gives you a concise picture of what is going on globally from a 1min up to a 1 day time frame. It compares all the currency strengths and weaknesses and gives a volatility index that indicates where the greatest movement is. * All this is displayed on one screen in the form of graphs and a heat map so you can easily spot these moves at a glance. In addition to this I have added commodities and stock markets to help you anticipate movements using inter market correlations. The Dashboard Correlator A software trading tool that compares strengths and weaknesses of currencies ,commodities and equities. Correlations are clearly defined allowing you to zone in on the best possible trading opportunities Features * Simple user interface displays overall market movements across Forex , commodities and Stock Indices * Compare strengths and weaknesses across multiple time frames from 1 min to 1 day * Simple easy to read heat map identifies market movements immediately * Correlations between different instruments clearly displayed * Set your own personal strength alerts on any currency upper & lower level and on any time frame or combination of time frames * Alerts received via voice alarm ,pop up or email (sms) * Screen display can be set to suit any size monitor * Set alerts to go off at intervals from 1 sec to 1 day * Simple trading rules & methodology, no complicated indicators Benefits * Make 40 to 60 + pips per session on 2 to 4 hours trading a day * win/loss ratio over 70 * profitability ratio 2.4 * Reduce screen watching time , alerts can be sent to your email / mobile
