"What makes Flaherty's songs so strikingly different from most "college" performers, however, is the instrumentation. Very few singer/songwriters are so unforced to experiment with distortion and electronica." 11 MP3 Songs Rock Modern Rock Rock Acoustic Goodbye Spaceman Songs Details: The rock fit out known as ADAM FLAHERTY Resound MACHINE formed in the fall of 2004 after dozens of Flaherty's solo shows and collaborations with drummer Tom Ash. Since that time, the band has developed a devoted fanbase in New England and beyond, playing in bars, clubs, and backyards from Portland to Brooklyn. In 2004, Flaherty was named Portland's "Best Singer / Songwriter" by the Portland Phoenix, and in 2005, the band was named Portland's "Best Indie Rock Act." They were also asked to contribute a song to the Labor Day Records release "Beautiful Locals," an album of Portland area bands covering songs of other Portland bands. The genre-defying quartet proudly released the 11 song "GOODBYE SPACEMAN" in August, 2005. The album documents the band's unique sound and ever-changing style, as well as their unforcedness to experiment with samples and melodies.
