Those songs had to come from someplace way beyond music." --Les Reynolds indie-music.com "'So Long' is a rock anthem waiting to hit the airwaves." --Anna Maria Stjarnell CollectedSounds.com "Alice Marie offers the best of both worlds: intelligent yet ethereal songs that have memorable hooks and aren't afraid to explode. Equilibrium is brilliant!" --Bob Leone Projects Director Songwriters Hall of Fame, New York "Alice Marie's songs go right through you like a lightning bolt." --Michelle Colletti Creative Evolution As the title of her debut EP suggests, Alice Marie likes to balance the earthy with the spiritual for just the right "equilibrium." The proof is in the way the lush, introspective "Lipstick Diaries" erupts into a volcanic "So Long" with its manic guitars that then give way to a haunting harp and cinematic sounds in "Madeleine," a song selected for Virt Records' Undiscovered Gems (also available through CD Baby). And just when you think you've got the New York-based singer-songwriter figured out, she makes you dig deeper with "The Seed," a song that typifies her brand of sensual and haunting rock that both reveals and heals. The voice of this Gaelic-hearted Brazilian is alternately bold and delicate, inspiring comparisons to Natalie Merchant, Alanis Morissette, and Sarah McLachlan, while some of her dramatic arrangements display the influence of Kate Bush and Tori Amos. Alice Marie has performed at the Bitter End, The Living Room, Arlene's Grocery, and Bluestockings Bookstore in NYC as well as Borders Bookstore and Maxwell's in

New Jersey. Her songs have aired on Harris Radio, NTG Radio, and Radio Crystal Blue. Her full-length follow-up CD called Angels Near is now available at cdbaby.com/alicemarie2, two tracks of which have been chosen for Mindful Lullabies, a CD to benefit RAINN (available at cafepress.com) To subscribe for updates, visit AliceMarieand to order Undiscovered Gems, the Virt CD, go to cdbaby.com/undiscovered_gems
