His songs touch hearts and souls, and offer a nostalgic look back at warm emotional times. In Mike's own words: Hi, my name is Mike Silba. Thanks for taking a look at my music. Here is a little of my musical background. I grew up in the 50's, 60's and 70's. Yes, I'm one of those baby boomers! I always loved music from an early age. I got an old guitar out of the closet that my brother didn't want, when I was 8 years old, and started trying to make music. I remember it well because the strings were about 1/2 inch away from the neck. It was very hard to play. Even as hard as it was to play, I would sit and work out songs every chance I got. I remember getting chased out of our house many times at a younger age, only to sit out in one of our old cars or in the back yard under our cherry tree to try to make music. Well, here it is, 42 years later, and I still sit around my house and try to make music. I have raised 3 wonderful children:

Josh, Season and Shyloh and also have a great wife of 33 years - Trisha. Now it seems I have a bit more time to work on my original songs. I hope you check out a few of the samples and enjoy them as much as I enjoyed working on them. Thanks much!
